

RAGGED GAME, HARD HITTING

Italian A. C. Defeated Norwich University, 10 to 9

WINNING N LAST OF NINTH

Both Weaferi and Keegan Were Hit Hard and, in Addition, They Were Poorly Supported—Visitors Complained or Poor Umpiring.

It took the Italian Athletic club exactly two hours to take the measure of the Norwich university baseball team yesterday afternoon at the Rangers field and when the Northfield lads mired off the field they opined that the losing end of the game had been handed to them through the medium of incompetent umpiring. There were several decisions rendered by the indicator holders that were very close. Soldini scored the winning run in the ninth inning with none out, making the total stand 10 to 9.

The game was one of the most exciting held at the Rangers field this season and was hard fought through every inning, both sides anxious to annex the victory, and hardly a close decision was transmitted that passed criticism. The fielding of both combinations was weak, ragged and loose, nine slips being charged to each.

Joe Weaferi, the Athletic's most reliable pitcher, was located on the peak for the Barre team during the nine innings, but was not in the best of form. While he allowed eleven hits, he passed three and succeeded in retiring but five out strikes. Keegan, who hurled for the Norwich team, was touched up considerably, his spitter having no effect on the home batters. In the third and eighth innings he was scored on seven times, the result of as many hits and a few errors. Outside of these innings he pitched in good form and kept the hits of the I. A. C. scattered.

The Norwich team was the first to score, in the opening session, Murray singled to center, stole second and came home when Giacuzzi fumbled O'Dowd's grounder. In the third the local team tallied thrice. Tonazzi was given his base on a balk, went to third when Keegan slipped up on Calagni's grounder. Weaferi hit to left, scoring Tonazzi. Calagni made home when Belyea permitted a throw to pass through him, the ball rolling away from third-base line. Keegan, who was after the sphere, picked it up and heaved it wide at the catcher and Weaferi slipped home. The home club scored one more run to its score in the fourth. Parkman misjudged David's long drive and it rolled for three bases, on which Tonazzi scored, after reaching first on an error by the shortstop. In the fifth, three consecutive hits netted two runs for the Norwich team, making the score stand 4 to 3 in favor of the I. A. C.

In the sixth inning, the total of the local team swelled to eight. Williams doubled to right, took third on Belyea's error of Tonazzi's grounder. David hit a liner to shortstop, who scooped it up, tagging the runner advancing to second from first. Calagni scored more runs along first base line and Williams went home. Weaferi reached first on Burwell's error. A three-bagger and a single furnished the rest of means for the addition of the four runs.

The Northfield team scored twice in both the eighth and ninth innings, so that at the opening of the last round the score stood 9 to 7. With two down Belyea was hit by a pitched ball, took second as O'Dowd reached second on Witt's error. Munsell scored Belyea on a Texas leaguer to left. Old "Doc" Whitney came to time with a slashing drive to right, sending O'Dowd in with the tying run. Maynard's best effort was to hit weakly to the pitcher. With some hope of victory still left, the visitors took the field for the final half of the ninth. Soldini sent a liner to left, took second on Keegan's error and scored on Tonazzi's leaguer to center. The score:

Notes of the Game.

Belyea at third had a way of getting in front of the baserunners that was provoking to many. Weaferi's running was bothered several times with it.

In the eighth inning Murray, the left fielder of the Norwich team, made a very pretty catch in left field. He caught the ball after a long run, after which he lost his balance near the small brook.

Burwell showed a lot of grit in the first inning to resume play after receiving a bad wrench to his ankle. His ankle was wrenched as he slid into first, attempting to beat out a hunt. A runner replaced him on the bases, and many thought he would not be able to return.

Williams, the former Spaulding man, was out in left field in place of Bottig, who is out of the game with a sprained ankle. Williams played a fine game, excelling with the stick. The younger is a better and cleaner pitcher. Yesterday, when he rapped out two hits out of three times up.

In the fifth, the players thought their coach, "Doc" Whitney, gave a poor exhibition of baserunning for an instructor in the game. "Doc" was more conservative with his maneuvers than probably his pets would have been, but it was all for the better.

The first inning saw many accidents. Burwell wrenched his ankle. O'Dowd ran into Calagni, knocking him over, and both were somewhat stunned by the collision.

Williams was not awake in the seventh yesterday. He had reached first on a hit. Tonazzi slammed a liner that landed safely in right, but Williams hesitated between the bases and Whitney threw him out at second.

In the third inning Witt made a very pretty catch and turned it into a double play. Keegan was on first and Burwell landed a Texas leaguer to left. Witt went after the ball like a flash. He brought the ball down on the dead run from over his shoulder, turning in time to throw Keegan out at first.

SPORTING NOTES.

Horne, the great western jumper, says that the Boston meet was a hooey and that he has not "gone back" as many of his friends expressed themselves after the meet. He said that he didn't know what was the matter and that he certainly wasn't in trim. At Sweden we will look for better results from the westerner.

Ed. Walsh of the White Sox thinks that he is a sick man. When he pitches a small score game with his spitter he admits that he is working under physical strain. One of his stunts is to drink a bottle of medicine before his team comes to prove to them that he is a fit subject for a hospital.

Easterly, the Cleveland catcher, manipulates the largest bat of any player in either league. Many think that it is a pretty heavy bat to swing, but the Cleveland catcher says that it suits him to a T.

One disappointment in choosing the Olympic team was the omission of the name of Gardner, the Yale pole vaulter, from the list. A man capable of going over thirteen feet is certainly deserving of a position.

Ty Cobb of the Tigers is one man that will never permit his name to be placed upon a minor league payroll. It is said that he owns considerable stock in a sporting goods house and that he is one of the directors of the company.

Hans Wagner of the Pirates is as dangerous a man as he was five years ago. The Dutchman is not only covering as much ground this year as ever, but is sinking the ball for well over 300. He has in the past.

Monday two pitchers that happened to be sent to pitch and who are stars, have been losing with regularity lately. Monday both of these stars, Rucker and Ford, won their games.

When Yale lines up against the Princeton team at the American league grounds at New York on Thursday, every Yale man will go to the game fearing Sam White. Each team has won a game each, and as this is the deciding game there will be a very large crowd of college baseball admirers on hand.

To Eppa Rixey, a Virginia southpaw, Manager Clark Griffith has made tempting offers. It appears that the young man is very modest and has no intention of playing professional ball until next season.

An unconditional lease has been handed Brandfield, the veteran first-sacker, by the Louisville American association. The old man has decided to give up baseball and return to his home at Worcester.

BY REFUSING APPROPRIATION.

Senate Votes to Get Rid of Commerce Court.

Washington, June 12.—The Senate yesterday voted to abolish the commerce court by refusing the necessary appropriation. The House had previously voted the same way.

The Senate committee on interoceanic trade made favorable reports on the House bill on the Panama canal exempting coastwise vessels from tolls and regulating the use of the canal by railroad owned ships.

25,000 R.R. MEN MAY STRIKE

P. R. R. Employees East of Pittsburg Will Vote

MEDIATION IS POSSIBLE

Electrification of Line Cause of Trouble—Two-Thirds of the Men Must Vote for a Strike Before One May Be Declared.

Philadelphia, June 12.—Approximately 25,000 trainmen on the lines of the Pennsylvania railroad east of Pittsburg, must vote within the next few days on the question of a general strike. Following the receipt of a letter from S. C. Long, general manager of the company, refusing the demands of the men, the general committee of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen decided to submit the question of a strike to a general vote. Two-thirds of the men must vote for a strike before one may be declared.

The men demand that the steam crews shall have preference and immediate employment. It will take more than a week for the vote and count. A majority for strike is expected, but the officers hope for mediation by the government. Almost a solid vote for a walk out is expected around New York, and a vote as strongly the other way is expected around Pittsburg.

Philadelphia, June 12.—At the resumption yesterday of the board of trade inquiry into the Titanic disaster, Sir Rufus Isaacs, attorney-general, announced his intention of submitting to the court that the wireless dispatch which warned that ice had been seen on the route of the Titanic was handed to J. Bruce Ismay, in his capacity as managing director of the White Star company, because of its seriousness.

One of the admiralty hydrographers, Capt. Francis S. Miller, was called to the witness stand, where he gave his opinion in opposition to the introduction of searchlights on liners.

That the lookout in the crow's nest of the Titanic was not provided with binoculars because the White Star line did not think them necessary was the substance of the testimony given by Captain Bartlett, the line's superintendent.

Bartlett declared that he considered glasses for lookouts unnecessary; that he thought searchlights at sea would be useless and that too many lifeboats on a liner's decks would hamper and confuse rescue work.

Capt. Hayes of the White Star line declared that the world-wide practice was not to slacken speed in the vicinity of ice. He continued: "You can always see ice," and added that in the case of the Titanic abnormal circumstances had arisen which had never been experienced before.

Los Angeles, June 12.—Patrick Joseph Cooney of Chicago was expected to undergo a rigid cross-examination yesterday at the hands of the attorneys for the defense in the trial of Clarence S. Darrow, the Chicago attorney, accused of jury bribery.

Members of the defense made no effort to disguise their impression that the effect of the ruling by Judge Hutton Monday would open the doors to all sorts of evidence which would tend to show that the defendant and his assistants in the McNamara defense had been guilty of wholesale corruption of witnesses as well as jurors.

Mr. Darrow expressed disappointment at the court's decision. "Under this ruling," he said, "I might be called upon to defend myself in almost any part of the country."

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

Whitese Strauss Stock Company at Barre Opera House Next Week.

The Whitese Strauss company, which opens an engagement at the opera house next Monday, are no strangers to Barre theatregoers, as their past engagement in this city left an impression which cannot easily be forgotten.

The opening play, "The Matchmaker," is still fresh in the minds of many from the fact that it enjoyed two years' run in New York City, one year in Chicago, and seven months in Boston. The comedy element furnished by Will H. Strauss, that funny little comedian, and Miss Bessie Mae, the petite comedienne, is of the best and kept the audience in good humor while they are on the stage.

Five high class vaudeville acts will be seen between the acts. Ladies' tickets, 15 cents, will be issued for Monday evening's performance. Limited to 200 only.

IN LOCAL MARKETS

Butter is Plenty With Prices Slightly Lower

FRESH EGGS ARE PLENTY

Native Potatoes Are Lower—Dressed Pork Brings 9c—Creamery Butter 28@29c, and Dairy Butter 26c.

Barre, Vt., June 12, 1912.

Butter plenty, with prices slightly lower. Fresh eggs plenty—Native potatoes lower.

Wholesale quotations: Dressed pork—8c. Dressed veal—10@10½c. Lambs—13@14c. Fowls—18@20c. Fresh eggs—18@20c. Butter—Creamery 28@29c, dairy 26c. Native potatoes—$1.10@1.20 bushel.

IN BOSTON MARKETS

Egg Supply Falling Below Demand and Prices Will Be Higher.

Boston, June 12.—Local receipts of butter continue large and buyers are cautious, but the market is firmer in spite of those conditions, owing to stronger advices from other markets.

Canton, N. Y., quotes the market a cent higher than a week ago and butter brought on the basis of that market will cost 29c laid down here. In Chicago, 27c is about as low as fancy creamery in tubs can be had, despite the public quotation of 26c, and brokerage and freight add about 1½c to get the butter here. The butter on hand cannot be sold profitably at lower prices than are asked and with first cost increasing, receivers are more disposed than ever to store. There also is a firmer feeling in the cheese market in response to stronger advices from the country. The market also is looking upward on strictly fresh eggs, supplies of which are falling behind the demand.

Jobbing quotations: Butter—Fancy northern creamery, tubs 30@30½c, boxes 31@31½c, prints 31½@32c. Fancy western creamery, spruce tubs 29½@30c, good to choice creamery 27½@28½c, renovated butter 27@28c.

Cheese—New York twins, fancy 15c, 15½c, fair to good 14@14½c, Young America 18½@19c.

Eggs—Fancy henry 26@27c, choice eastern 24@25c, fresh western 22@23c.

FOSS SIGNS LABOR BILL "ON MERITS"

Ignore the Fact That the Appointment of Commission Is Put Over For a Year.

Boston June 12.—Notwithstanding the provision in the bill which puts the appointment of the commission it authorizes over to next year, Gov. Foss has signed the bill establishing the state board of labor and industries.

The bill was backed by organized labor. It takes away from the district police the factory inspection work and combines the activities of the state in matters affecting labor under the direction of the commissioner of labor.

The governor in his statement says: "The fact that the legislature has incorporated in the bill a provision by which the law will not become operative until next year merely introduced certain personal considerations which might well have been avoided. At any rate, I have ignored it in passing upon the merits of the bill."
